

Model of Civic Engagement Opportunities

Engagement in each of these opportunities is needed for positive social change to occur in a community. Although engagement in each opportunity can be done by an individual or team, the full process of change involves numerous people engaging in every opportunity.