Jennifer Sirangelo is a believer in young people and their capacity to change the world. She leads National 4-H Council in its mission to increase investment and participation in high-quality 4-H positive youth development programs.

Sirangelo joined National 4-H Council in 2006 to grow support for America's largest youth development organization. Council is the non-profit partner to the nation's 4-H movement, supporting leadership development for nearly six million young people through diverse and inclusive programs in agriculture, science, health and civic engagement by way of alliances with America's philanthropic sector.

Sirangelo is currently leading one of the largest brand and alumni activations in 4-H history, Opportunity 4 All, in partnership with America's land-grant universities and Cooperative Extension System as well as the United States Department of Agriculture. She is the recipient of the Gold Stevie® Female Executive of the Year Award for women in business and was named to Fast Company's annual list of the 100 Most Creative People in Business.

Sirangelo is a member of Fortune's Most Powerful Women and the Forbes Nonprofit Council. In addition, she is currently representing 4-H with the America 250 Foundation in support of our nation's 250th anniversary in 2026 as the co-chair of the Youth Engagement Committee. She also serves on the AgriCorps Board, is an Advisor to the Global 4-H Network Board and is a member of the Farm Foundation Round Table.
